Indians Kill Anthropologists

SAO PAULO, Brazil, July 17 (UPI) — Two anthropologists trying to make contact with a remote tribe of Brazilian Indians were clubbed and speared to death, it was reported Friday. Reports reaching São Paulo said José Pacifico de Almeida and Amelio Rosario were attacked by a dozen Indians of the Curubu tribe in the Javari Valley. "They treat all white men as against them," said one staffer of the Marubo Indian post set up in the Javari Valley to establish contact with Curubus.
